1. Fairfield: update

Cheryl-Ann referred the Executive to the correspondence received from Chief Denise. There has been no further update. Cheryl-Ann contacted the curator of the Fairfield Museum, to advise him that the Executive had agreed to close the Museum and all its facilities for the 2020 season to minimize potential health risks. The curator expressed his deep gratitude to the Executive for their concern for his health. Field growing project – the curator will be talking to a nearby farmer about the possibility of putting in winter wheat. There is a draft farm agreement that can be implemented should the project go forward.

2. Celebration of Ministries Service

Location tentatively confirmed: Grace United, Sarnia. Date/time of service: 10 am on Sunday, November 1. As approved by ARW Executive at meeting of June 10, 2020.

Cheryl-Ann referred the Executive to the concerns expressed by some of the candidates about having the service on the Sunday of the fall regional council meeting, including their concern about potential lack of regional council attendance. It was felt that the regional council was doing its best to accommodate all, given the current pandemic situation. It was also noted that livestreaming will provide the opportunity for congregations to be virtually part of the service and allow for the service to be shared at a later date.

It was agreed that the date and time would not be changed and planning will move forward. The regional council will be reminded to “save the date” and the livestream link will be shared in September. President Joyce will talk to the candidates about their concerns.

3. Commission reports

a. Covenant (Marie Santos)

The commission had two check-in meetings in July. While not well attended, there were good questions and discussion. A UCC pandemic bridge loan application was received and it was deferred as it did not meet the criteria. Six pastoral charge supervisors were appointed. The commission approved the use of funds restricted by presbytery or regional council to pay insurance premiums for 2020 if needed.

b. Human Resources – no report

c. Mission & Discipleship – no report

4. Financial update (Doug Cameron, Treasurer)

Meetings to review financial matters are scheduled in August. Doug will have a breakdown of all monies now received from conference/presbyteries and investments for the September executive meeting. The ARWRC audit is planned for September. President Joyce will write a thank you note to former London Conference treasurer, Brent Caslick, for his accounting work.
